Props and Costume Policy Change

We regret to announce that due to last-minute changes, Kumoricon policy must be amended as follows:

- Absolutely no metal props will be allowed within Kumoricon convention space. This includes but is not limited to prop swords and stage steel.
- No masks or other items which obscure an attendee's face from view may be worn while in the corridors and common areas of the hotel.
- No airsoft guns will be permitted. Plastic toy guns are acceptable, if not designed to fire a projectile. Guns must be obvious fakes at a distance of ten feet.
- As always, props cannot be brandished in any way. Only when posing for a still photo may props be held in any manner that could be deemed threatening.

The staff of Kumoricon extends our apologies to anyone adversely affected by this policy change. If you have any questions, please ask at the peacebonding desk.

These policy changes supersede the policies printed in the main convention book. All other policies in the convention book remain in effect.

Policies

Please be sure to read the full policies in the main convention book. Details of selected policies are repeated here for your convenience:

Content

- Panels and events marked “18+ only” require state ID to enter (not just badge check).

Minors

- Age 12 and under: Must be accompanied by a badge-holding parent or legal guardian at all times.
- Age 13 and up: Must have a legal or appointed guardian available at the convention site at all times. Appointed guardians must be age 18 or over and have permission from the minor’s parent or legal guardian.

Curfew

- Between 12:00 midnight and 4:00 AM, minors age 17 and under must be accompanied by a legal or appointed guardian at all times.
- The City of Portland curfew differs slightly and is not enforced by Kumoricon inside the convention space.

Last-Minute Additions

Additions after our main book went to press:

Toshifumi Yoshida, Guest of Honor

Anime producer Toshifumi Yoshida got his start in the anime and manga world during the late '80s as a founding member and staff translator of the gone-but-not-forgotten smartass anime magazine, Animag—although of course he grew up watching the stuff as a wee spanker living in Shizuoka, Japan.

For over a decade, Toshi has been a video producer for VIZ Media, working at the home office in San Francisco and the recording studio in Vancouver, Canada. As of last year, Toshi completed the recording of the entire InuYasha TV series for both Cartoon Network's Adult Swim and for home video release.

In October of 2004, Toshi left his full-time position at VIZ to continue his career as a contract translator, writer, and producer-for-hire. This allows him to work from home and spend more time with his wife, Trish Ledoux, and with their son, Hajime. Biography supplied by AnimeCons.com.

Panels

Dark Horse Comics

Michael Gombos is Director of Asian Licensing at Dark Horse Comics. An experienced translator and interpreter (he is a former radio DJ in Japan), he has the main responsibility for Dark Horse's acquisition of all new manga and anime-related titles, including Japanese artbooks, non-fiction, and novels as well. He is also the translator of the English edition of Rei Mikamoto's series Reiko the Zombie Shop.

Carl Gustav Horn has written professionally on anime since 1993 and has been a manga editor for nine years, including on the first translated series to be published in right-to-left format, Yoshiyuki Sadamoto's Neon Genesis Evangelion. He has been at Dark Horse Comics since 2004, and is currently editor of the English-language editions of Kosuke Fujishima's Oh My Goddess! as well as Eiji Otsuka and Housui Yamazaki's titles The Kurosagi Corpse Delivery Service and Mail.

Cat Girl Pool Party!

Are you a cat girl or cat boy? Would you like to meet others like you? Water and cats don't usually mix but we're here to make an exception. Come to a Kumoricon first—the Cat Girl Pool Party! Bring your ears, tails, paws and don't forget your swimming suit. Come down and meet at the hotel pool Sunday at 3pm for the only sun you'll need all con!

Anime Madlibs:

Write an anime fanfic drabble. Leave strategic blanks for things like "action hero", "bishie", "romantic gesture", "fighting stance", etc....and have others "fill in the blanks" just like old-fashioned "Mad Libs". I giggle just thinking about it!

Con Tips

Quick Costume Tricks:

Nylons... a great part of many colorful costumes.

Tip: Stop a run with clear nail polish.

Button be gone?

Seek a small piece of electrical tape...less residue than regular tape.

Hem torn?

Super glue may be your greatest ally but it will ruin the fabric. Try glue stick and the dry cleaner can get it out later.

Hot costume?

Try using some talc powder before cosplay to avoid stains.

Forgotten cosplay?

Head to the creation station, much can be accomplished with Copic and a little ingenuity.

Anime Terms and Phrases:

Manga: Manga is the book form of Japanese art.

Manga-ka: Japanese term for a manga artist.

Chibi: Recognizable by their big eyes and exaggerated features, chibi in anime is a small character. Chibi in Japanese literally is a derogatory term for a child, but in anime these adorable characters steal our hearts.

Kawaii: Japanese for “cute”, often referring to a chibi character.

Yaoi: Yaoi is male-male relationships in manga.

Yuri: Yuri is the female equivalent of Yaoi (girl-girl romance).

Doujinshi: Doujinshi is the Japanese term for a fan manga. You can get anything from hentai to serious stories. Doujinshis can be good if used nicely, such as to enhance a certain part of a manga series, or create a new episode. Other types of doujins can be gag series, which are like a comic strip of comedy. Be careful while searching for doujins, and make sure to read the descriptions carefully.

Hentai: Hentai series are usually doujinshis or adult series, usually containing explicit adult content. Hentai in Japanese means “pervert”, so you sometimes hear a character call another one “hentai”.

Mascot Art Contest, 2006

The winner of our 2007 mascot art contest will be announced at closing ceremonies!
